

This 6,000 hp dynamometer is used in research to improve the design and efficiency of propeller blades. For some tests, in order to simulate flight conditions, the dynamometer is installed in the test section of the 16-Foot High Speed Wind Tunnel. There the propeller can be run in a stream of air moving as fast as a high-speed airplane. Photo by Taub